

Relates Interesting History Of Dr. Pfeiffer's New Oxford College And Medical Institute

Thaddeus Stevens, "the father of public school education in Pennsylvania," was also, to an extent, the "father" of the New Oxford College and Medical Institute, Charles Diller, Hanover, told the Adams County Historical society at its regular meeting in the court house Tuesday evening.

"In the years preceding the Civil War the noted lawyer (Stevens) who practiced in Gettysburg was a frequent guest of the Pfeiffer family. It is probably due, at least in part, to him that the local institution of learning was founded," Mr. Diller noted.

The New Oxford school was established by Dr. Michael Deidrich Gubler Pfeiffer in 1845 and existed for about 20 years.

Advanced His Theories

Mr. Diller said that "the primary object for the establishment of Dr. Pfeiffer's college was to afford its founder an opportunity to illustrate and inculcate his peculiar theories in regard to human development—moral, mental and physical. The buildings were erected in 1846 at a cost of $17,400. It is claimed that Doctor Pfeiffer borrowed $10,000 of this sum from his old friend and adviser, Thaddeus Stevens. Young men of the community, with a desire for a higher education, hauled the lumber and stone and performed a great portion of the labor, which was to apply toward their tuition.

"Among these boys were the Feisers, Hersh, Himes, Martin and Diehl families. (The speaker's grandfather, Charles A. Diehl, was one of these boys.) The first teacher was a Mr. Seeker, then Mr. Dinsmore, followed three years later by a Mr. Share (Scherer). From that time until the Civil War, Thaddeus and Quincy Pfeiffer, sons of Doctor Pfeiffer, were the teachers. They then joined the Union Army in which Thaddeus was killed in the battle of Cold Harbor. Although the college had a considerable number of students for some years, some coming from as far as Baltimore, it never received the support and patronage commensurate with the efforts put forth in its behalf, and the enterprise had to be abandoned.

Heidelberg Graduate

"Doctor Pfeiffer, a graduate of the University of Heidelberg, came to America about 1818. A young Prussian physician, he had, three years earlier, assisted in the downfall of Napoleon Bonaparte at the battle of Waterloo. As personal medical aide to William I, Emperor of Germany, he might have risen to a place of prominence in his service, but he preferred the freer life in America. Stricken ill in the neighborhood of Manchester, Md., Pfeiffer stopped at a Mr. Faltz's boarding house in Manchester, where a daughter of the proprietor, Salome Faltz, nursed him back to health. Recovering his health, he married Salome and continued his search for a home in America. He found it in the little hamlet of New Oxford, where the Ox-Head Inn, or "Butcher Frederick's Stand," and a dozen log and stone houses in the center of an agricultural community served as a break in the long road from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh. Here the young doctor began the practice of his profession which continued until his death in 1880.

"Professor John Wolf, an uncle of Willis W. Eisenhart, of Abbotstown, the last alumnus of the college, who died some years ago at Hanover, attended Pfeiffer college in 1848. He said that the sessions of the school lasted 22 weeks and the school had 50 students ranging from eight to 20 years of age."

The founder of the school whose motto was "Athenae and Hygieia" was the progressive son of a progressive father. His father, a Lutheran minister, won a medal from the German government because, when he heard of the effects of vaccination, he had his entire parish vaccinated, Mr. Diller said.

The medal came into Doctor Pfeiffer's hands, but later, along with all of the records of the college, was destroyed when a fire broke out in a storage house in Washington, D. C., where John Quincy Adams Pfeiffer, son of Doctor Pfeiffer, resided. Quincy Pfeiffer, after the Civil War, worked in the Treasury Department as a translator, reading 13 languages. He was 91 when he died in the Kalbfleisch apartments, in Gettysburg. For a number of years after his retirement he lived in the Blue Parrot apartments here.

Studied Theology

When Pfeiffer college failed, Quincy took up his father's obligations and through years of effort succeeded in paying every creditor, Mr. Diller said.

Motorist Involved In Mishap Is Fined

Fred Michael, Hanover, charged by state police of the Gettysburg substation with reckless driving, following an accident in which he was involved on October 14, paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace James H. Brinton, Hanover R. 3, police said today.

Stanley K. Souder, Telford, Pa., paid a fine of $10 and costs to Squire Brinton on a charge of speeding.

STUDENTS WILL BE GUESTS OF LIONS CLUBMEN

One hundred twenty-four Upper Adams County Lions club members and their ladies heard Rev. Nevil E. Smith proclaim Lionism as a step toward world peace as the club celebrated Ladies Night Tuesday evening in the Bendersville Community hall. President Cyrus Bucher presided.

Dale Hoffman, a student at the Upper Adams Joint high school, was a guest of the club. His presence inaugurated a new custom in the club program. It was decided by the board of directors to honor an outstanding student at each club meeting. Hoffman, who was introduced by Bruce Sheets, is president of the student council, a member of the senior band, participates in several vocal groups of the school, and has held important offices in the FFA. Despite such a busy schedule of activities he has maintained an "A" average.

To Entertain Students

The club members voted to entertain, at a spring banquet, the members of the high school's varsity club. This was one of three suggested plans. The others proposed were a (Please Turn to Page 2)

COUNTY COUNCIL OF GIRL SCOUTS MEETS TUESDAY

Plans for sale of Girl Scout calendars and other activities were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Girl Scout Council held in the "Little House" on East High street.

All Girl Scouts throughout the county will receive orders for the 1950 Girl Scout calendars, it was decided. The profit derived from the 25-cent article will go toward the camping fund being established by the scouts. Sale of Girl Scout cookies will also begin within the next few weeks, with profits going to the same fund, the group decided.

Reports were presented at the meeting by Mrs. Richard C. Lighter, secretary; Mrs. Raymond Unks, treasurer; Mrs. George Miller, nominating-membership chairman; Mrs. Fred Faber, Jr., Juliette Low chairman; Mrs. Harvey Raffensperger, staff and office chairman; Mrs. Mervin Bream, camping chairman; Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, public relations chairman, and Miss Marion Tupper, county Girl Scout executive.

Mrs. Baitzley Resigns

Mrs. Betty Baitzley, part time secretary for the council, presented her resignation which was accepted with regret. No replacement has been secured so far.

Mrs. Faber reported $26.73 has been donated so far to the Juliette Low World Friendship fund by various scout troops of the county. The fund is being used to aid Girl Scout troops in war-torn countries.

The scouts agreed to participate in the November 19 parade. The Rev. Willis R. Doyle, junior vice commander of the local Sons of Union Veterans, was present to extend the invitation.

Miss Tupper was selected to represent the county at the Girl Scout leaders' convention at Milwaukee. The next meeting of the council will be held December 6, Mrs. J. Walter Coleman, president, who presided, announced.

Methodist Women's Society Meets

"Pakistan" was the subject for the program at the November meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church which was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dunning Idle, Sr., Chambersburg street.

The program was conducted by Mrs. George R. Larkin with the assistance of members of the society. A bazaar and turkey supper was announced for December 8 at the church. A kitchen society will be organized on the menu. Mrs. Edith Bloom was received as a new member of the society.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Idle, Mrs. C. O. Schweizer, Mrs. John Hamilton, Mrs. Mary Cassatt, Mrs. David Weller, Mrs. Annie Tate, Mrs. Frank Britcher and Mrs. Waddell. A social hour followed the business and program.

Guardsmen Handle Own Paper Work

There is considerable office work involved in the operation of Troop A, Pennsylvania National Guard, Adams county's home unit, and all the "paper" work is done by members of the troop. Men gain much experience in this effort which frequently serves them in good stead in later years. In the photograph above are (left to right): 1st Sgt. John W. Wolf, New Oxford; Pfc. Robert L. Miller, McSherrystown; Cpl. John L. Donmoyer, R. 2, Gettysburg, and Sgt. Jack W. Miller, Biglerville, Pa.—(Photo by Lane Studio)

Office Work Forms Part Of Duties Of Troop A Staff

It takes a staff of good "paper work men" to keep an army unit operating and the same holds true for a National Guard outfit. Lt. John W. Deardorff, Jr., commanding officer of Troop A, Adams county's home unit of the National Guard, pointed out today.

Most important of the "paper work" carried out by the first sergeant, company clerk and others, at least as far as the individual National Guardsman is concerned, is the proper filling out of the forms that bring the paychecks to the civilian soldiers.

Basic pay scales show that a master sergeant will receive $424.49 for his year's work of spending a two-hour training period, four weeks a month at the army here, and for taking part in a two-week encampment during the summer.

The sergeant first class will receive $362.75; a sergeant, $301.01; corporal, $254.46; private first class, $198.40; private, $180.75 and recruit, $175.66. Those wages are for the men who have not had more than two years' prior service. Most of the members of the local troop have had several years' army service and possibly a year or two duty with the National Guard, thus putting them into higher wage scales. After two years of service, the Guardsman automatically gets an increase in wages of approximately $15 a year. Those who have previous service get the raises included with their first check. Thus the company administrative soldiers have their job cut out for them to see that every man gets his right pay, the company commander noted.

The pay scale led Lieutenant Deardorff to state also that "the pay rate for the National Guard is not too bad. The men receive better than $1 an hour for their drills."

The troop is currently seeking members and must secure 20 more before November 19 if it is to remain in existence at Gettysburg. Those interested in joining the Guard should visit the army here any day between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. or Tuesday and Thursday nights between 8 and 10 p. m.

Band To Rehearse In New Quarters

The Gettysburg Blue and Gray band will resume rehearsals Thursday night at 8 o'clock, Charles C. Rodgers, conductor of the band, announced today.

The band has not had the opportunity to rehearse since shortly after Labor Day and has been granted the use of the old borough garage in the rear of the fire engine house on East Middle street.

Mr. Rodgers said today he hopes to begin rehearsal of a new repertoire of classical, semi-classical and popular music to be used in future concerts of the band. He urged all members to attend Thursday's rehearsal in the band's new "home" which he and other band officials say will be permanent.

FOUR ENLISTMENTS

Four Adams countians recently enlisted at the U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting station at Hanover. They are Ida Mae Walter, Biglerville, four years in the Women of the Air Force; William A. Diehl, Abbotstown, four years in the Air Force; Philbert D. Jacobs, Jr., Littlestown, four years in the Air Force, and Clarence A. Hall, Littlestown, three years in Army Engineers.

Expect 1,000 Alumni Here For Homecoming At College

Approximately 1,000 alumni and friends of Gettysburg college are expected to return to the campus over the week-end to renew college ties in the annual Homecoming celebration.

Festivities will begin Friday evening in the Hotel Gettysburg with a football banquet, to which all alumni have been invited, in honor of all Gettysburg athletes past and present. The speaker will be Dick Harlow, former Harvard and Western Maryland football coach. Immediately following the banquet the football spirit will be carried on as the alumni attend a student pep rally and parade on the college campus.

Highlighting the week-end program will be the football game between the Gettysburg Bullets and the Bucknell Bison Saturday afternoon on Memorial Field. Members of former Gettysburg eleven's whose years end in the numbers four or nine have been invited to view the game from the sidelines.

Shrine Club Party To Be Held Tonight

The annual Fall Ladies' night dinner-dance of the Adams County Shrine club, under the jurisdiction of Zembo Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., Harrisburg, will be held this evening at the Hotel Gettysburg, beginning promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Potentate A. Earl O'Brien and Mrs. O'Brien and other officers of Zembo shrine will be guests of honor.

There will be cards and dancing to the music of Howard Gale and his orchestra, Harrisburg. A buffet supper will be served at 11:30 o'clock. About 200 are expected to attend. Dress will be formal.

Glenn L. Bream is president of the county club. Dr. R. D. Wickerham is chairman of the entertainment committee and Kenneth P. Hull is chairman of the steward's committee.

COMMISSIONERS ASK PRICES ON IMPROVEMENTS

The Adams county commissioners this morning told representatives of the County Historical society that they hope to have a new meeting room for the society constructed under the front of the court house prior to the end of the year.

Contractor Victor Re, the commissioners said, has been asked to submit an estimate for the construction of the room and a street entrance, probably from West Middle street. It is expected that he will have his estimates available by next week, the commissioners said. While no action can be taken until the cost estimates are available, the commissioners said that they hope the price will be within the county's ability to pay and that work can begin in the near future on the matter.

Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, a member of the board of directors of the historical society, headed the delegation present. She told the commissioners that the room is badly needed for use by the society, pointing out that for many months the present meeting room in the basement of the court house has been overcrowded and that Tuesday night the society had to adjourn to the court room in order to permit all to attend.

See Advantages

The commissioners agreed with Mrs. Bilheimer concerning the undersirability of the court room for meetings, agreeing that because of its poor acoustics it does not provide proper accommodations for speakers.

To construct the new room under the court house a concrete floor will have to be poured, plaster placed on walls and a ceiling put in place. In addition a door and entrance will be cut into the wall of the building, permitting easy access.

The new room will permit other organizations which now use the court room, various offices in the court house, law library and the like with a more suitable place of meeting, and will also permit meetings to be held without opening the entire court house, the commissioners noted.

State Official To Address Co. Group

H. C. Fetterolf, chief of the agricultural education division of the state Department of Public Instruction, will be the speaker this evening at a ladies' night meeting of the Vo-ag and Veterans Agricultural teachers of Adams and Franklin counties to be held at the Lutheran church in New Oxford at 6:45 o'clock.

Fetterolf will present an illustrated talk on his recent experiences in Germany where he was sent by the State Department to aid in the formation of agriculture classes for the Germans. John Kratzert, New Oxford agricultural education teacher and president of the teachers' group, will preside at the meeting.

Entertain Woman's League Board Tonight

The 38th annual convention of the Woman's General League of Gettysburg college opens tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in Christ Lutheran church. Registrations open at 9 o'clock with the first business session following an hour later.

This evening at 6 o'clock Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson entertain members of the executive board at dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg. The board meeting will be held at the SCA building on the campus following the dinner.

The convention banquet will be held at 6:30 o'clock Thursday at the Hotel Gettysburg. Rev. Wallace E. Fisher, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, will be the speaker. The closing session of the convention will be held at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Sofa bed, full spring construction, $49.50, Leinhardt Brothers furniture store, Baltimore street, Hanover, Pa.

Fuhrman, Midway, desertion and non-support; Kenneth A. Woodward, rear East Middle street, morals charge; William F. Swope, Aspers R. 1, morals charge; Fabian and Eugene Smith, McSherrystown, larceny of wood.

COUNTIAN DIES FROM INJURIES; STRUCK BY CAR

Injuries received when he was struck by an automobile proved fatal to James Albert Noel, 62, 208 West High street, New Oxford, who died Tuesday morning at 4:20 o'clock in the Hanover hospital.

Mr. Noel was admitted to the hospital Saturday night suffering from possible fractures of the skull and left hip, lacerations of the lips and nose, and bruiseburns of both legs, as the result of being struck by an automobile in Midway, near the new bowling center. According to state police of the Gettysburg detail, who investigated, Noel was crossing the street when the car, being driven toward Hanover by Richard Kaiser, 22, 238 Princess street, Hanover, struck him. Kaiser took the injured man to the hospital.

Mr. Noel had been employed as a sand mixer by the New Oxford foundry and was a member of Immaculate Conception of Mary church, New Oxford. He was a son of the late Joseph and Ann King Noel.

Services Saturday

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Grace Smith Noel; four children, Harold J. Noel, McSherrystown; Mrs. Paul Staub, New Oxford; Miss Pauline (Please Turn to Page 2)

BULLETINS

Cleveland, Nov. 2 (AP)—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson said today the "Armies Services must beware of the Die Hards" who fight against new weapons of war.

The "Die Hards," he told the American Automobile association convention here, is even more dangerous than the "Dreamer," who would keep arms productions waiting for tomorrow's better weapons.

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—John L. Lewis told the Governor of Indiana today that he is ready to negotiate a prompt coal peace pact with Indiana mine operators or those of "any other state."

DAPPER LOVER CONVICTED OF $8,700 SWINDLE

Chicago, Nov. 2 (AP)—Sigmund (Sam) Engel, the self-styled lover of 1,001 women, and internationally known confidence man, was back in jail today. He faces a one to 10 year prison sentence for a love swindle.

Engel, 74, dapper and usually talkative, was silent after a criminal court jury yesterday convicted him of bilking a red-haired Chicago widow out of $8,700, after promising to marry her.

His accuser, Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39, judged after the verdict came in.

Judge George M. Fisher doubled Engel's $7,500 bail, delayed sentencing, and set November 9 for hearing on a motion for a new trial.

The sentence for operating a confidence game—the charge on which the jury of six women and six men convicted Engel—is one to 10 years.

Long Police Record

His attorneys indicated they will appeal the verdict to the Illinois State Supreme court.

A packed courtroom was prevented from surging to the front of the room as women bailiffs revived Mrs. Corrigan.

"I'm sorry to have caused all this bother," Mrs. Corrigan said.

"But that man's going to jail, where he should be, and I'm happy. I'm grateful to everybody."

It was only a few minutes later that Engel was in jail. Earlier he had predicted that he would be acquitted and that he never would spend another day in jail.

The jury decided the case in one hour and seven minutes.

The white-haired, pint-sized Engel, police say, has a 50-year police record of swindling women in the United States and Europe, and has spent many years in prison.

STUDENTS WILL

football banquet and an all-sports banquet. The varsity club is composed mainly of juniors and seniors who have participated not only in sports but also in music, dramatics, journalism or other school activities.

In the past the football squad members have been guests of the Lions club. Under the new plan those in all extra curricular activities of the school will be included.

Rev. Smith entertained the club with humorous stories, followed by more serious remarks. He termed the Lions meeting a "Sheneri-Lub" where people can come together for an enjoyable interlude, letting their cares, anxieties and problems remain in suspension. "Many worthwhile things," he said, "would never be done were they not done by such service clubs as the Lions."

Referring to the world situation today he declared: "Great strides have been made in science and industry and with these have come the awful advances in weapons of war. But unfortunately our thinking has not changed much. We are unable to agree with each other. It is Lionism, designed to have international influence, that must help to do away with the bottleneck that has accumulated in the department of human relations. With more doubt and suspicion than ever before existing in the world, Lion clubs must awaken to their responsibilities and set themselves to the task of doing them."

Must Live In Harmony

"They must realize that we no longer can live unto ourselves, that science has made our world small, and all people must be brought together. They must adopt a thought pattern that will enable all peoples to live together in harmony. Lionism is designed to step across borders and must bring the individual out of his smallness and into the bigness of a united world."

Furnishing dinner music for the meeting was a quartet from the Upper Adams Joint high school, Ronald Alwine, Owen Taylor, Clark Heller and Dale Homan. Their accompanist was Doris Coulson. Mr. Alwine also sang several solos and Miss Coulson played several piano selections.

In charge of arrangements for the Ladies' Night was the Community Betterment committee including Oscar Rice, Jr., chairman, Paul W. Wagner, and Charles E. Rouzer. The program committee, composed of Clair F. Shillito, chairman, Richard C. Fink, and Donald E. Baer, assisted. The dinner was served by the Bendersville Ladies' auxiliary of the fire company.

A donation of $25 has been made by the Lions club to the Adams County Library. The board of directors has under consideration the desirability of putting a ceiling on the club membership, which now stands at 72. Mention was made also of sending out visitation teams to the other clubs within the district and of playing host to another club.

The next club meeting is scheduled for November 15 and will be arranged by the education committee made up of Samuel Ehlman, chairman, Clyde A. McCauslin and Cecil R. Snyder. Mr. Ehlman said the program will be centered around wildlife. Members were invited to bring a sports-minded guest.

A regular meeting of the Adams County Marine Corps League chapter will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the league's quarters on West Middle street.

Wedding

Brent—Clingan

Miss Irene Delta Clingan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clingan, "anytown," became the bride of Jassius Brent, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Clingan, Gettysburg, on Saturday at 6:15 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Harney. The single ring ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. Charles E. Feld. Mrs. Marie Wagerman, organist and close friend of the couple, played during the ceremony. Attending were the immediate families and a few close friends. A reception was held at the Harney Lutheran parish hall following the ceremony for 140 guests. After the reception the couple left for a short trip through York, where they spent Saturday night, leaving there Sunday morning for Niagara Falls, Harrisburg and Baltimore. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bride for a short while until their new home is completed at Gettysburg R. 3. The bride is an employee of the Taneytown clothing factory. The groom is a veteran of World War II and is at present employed by H. J. Oyler, Gettysburg.

PLAN CAMPAIGN TO ERADICATE BANG'S DISEASE

Plans for an active campaign for Bang's disease eradication among the county's 20,000 cows on over 2,000 farms were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Biglerville local of the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative. The session was held in the Agricultural Extension office in the court house.

George L. Haenn, Gettysburg R. 1, was elected by the local as its representative on a county-wide committee to be set up to promote the Bang's disease control program locally. According to plans outlined by Ira N. Dummire, assistant county farm agent, each county will have a cattle sanitation committee, and each county group will name one member to the state committee, which will work with the State Department of Animal Industry in the effort to control the disease which produces abortion in cattle and is connected with undulant fever in human beings.

Cites New Regulations

In only about 17 per cent of the herds in Adams county are there any organized efforts to prevent Bang's disease, Dummire said. New regulations in regard to cows and milk in connection with the disease will go into effect January 1, Dummire added.

M. T. Walter, Biglerville R. D., president of the Biglerville local, and Haenn, who is its secretary-treasurer, were continued in office for another year.

E. C. Dunning, Chambersburg, district representative for the Interstate Milk Producers group, discussed the economic situation in regard to the milk markets and outlined the part the cooperative plays in appearing before the state and federal milk control commission to attempt to secure better prices for the farmers.

Arthur Ebbert, Biglerville, was elected as delegate to the annual meeting of the cooperative to be held November 21 and 22, at Philadelphia.

Model Airplane Clubs Planned

Plans to form "Pal Clubs" designed to aid youngsters in the construction of model airplanes were announced today by Glenn C. Bream, owner of Gettysburg Motors, in connection with the showing at the Gettysburg Motors garage of a motion picture on the second annual international model airplane meet. Bream said the film will be shown each evening from 7 until 10 o'clock in the customers' lounge at his garage on York street. Youngsters wishing to see the 25-minute color film may visit the garage any evening during the week. Forms will be available for those who wish to register for the formation of a "Pal" model airplane club. If sufficient interest is shown, a club will be formed locally, with probably all three of the local Plymouth dealers taking part, Bream said.

The clubs are sponsored by the Plymouth Motor company and flying contests are held in various districts to select about 500 contestants in the annual international flying meets. The planes built by the contestants, as shown by the movies, range from flying stick models weighing less than one-tenth of an ounce up to seven or eight pound planes with a wingspread of six to eight feet. Motive power for the models varies from rubber bands to gasoline motors to jet engines.

ASSAILANT AND VICTIM VANISH, Baffle Police

Philadelphia, Nov. 2 (AP)—The case of a critically wounded restaurant patron and the two gunmen who shot him still mystified Philadelphia police today.

The victim, with what appeared to be a gaping hole in his head, pursued his assailants from a mid-city restaurant yesterday and vanished. A day-long check of hospitals and doctors' offices failed to produce any lead.

The wounded man's assailants disappeared, too. And to complicate matters further four companions of the wounded man and an attractive woman companion of the gunmen were not to be found.

Eyewitnesses said the woman and her two companions stepped into the restaurant where she pointed out a man of 50 dressed in a grey suit as the man who had insulted her.

After the shooting, the eyewitnesses told police, the woman and her companions sped off in a new dark convertible. The wounded man, blood streaming from his head, pursued them to the street and disappeared after the trio drove off.

Joseph Valonis, manager of the restaurant, told police the diner was struck in the head by a bullet fired by one of the two gunmen.

Picks 100 Bu. Apples In Day Although 87

Age is no barrier to apple pickers, Clark Fettes, Menallen township fruit grower, revealed today.

His report showed that one 87-year-old picker, William Cullison, Cashtown, picked better than 80 bushels per day on an average and one day turned in 100 bushels.

Another veteran picker, Curtis Frummel, 64, of Fisherville, Dauphin county, now residing near Peach Glen, has been picking about 65 bushels of apples per day at the Fettes orchard in addition to working all night at the Knouse Cooperative plant at Peach Glen.

CANNERS FACE RED LION HIGH WITHOUT WALDE

Coach Gene Haas at Biglerville is beginning to have plenty to worry about. With tough and important games coming up with "jinxing" Red Lion, league-leading Elizabethtown and strong Waynesboro, the Cannners in all probability have lost their hard-driving right halfback, Joe Walde.

Walde played good, hard football during the game with Palmyra and no one suspected that there was anything wrong. On Monday, however, Walde complained of a back bruise. A subsequent examination by a doctor showed Walde to have a vertebrae injury. He will be definitely out of the Red Lion game and chances are that he won't be able to play any more football this year. Walde will be missed in the Biglerville backfield. Coach Haas revealed that Kint and H. Warner will replace the injured Walde in the right halfback slot.

On Saturday afternoon the Cannners journey to Red Lion to do battle with the Red Lion team, their fifth conference opponent. To date the encounters between these two teams have been unhappy ones for the Biglerville gridders. The Cannners have never been able to come out victorious against Red Lion. The best they have been able to do has been to play a tie. Last year Biglerville was riding along on a 13 to 0 margin. When the game was over, however, the score was evened up at 13-13.

Several years ago a Red Lion-Biglerville encounter made history. At that time Biglerville had no permanent lighting system and was using portable lights. With the game almost over and Red Lion leading 6 to 0 the lights suddenly went dead and darkness descended upon the gridiron. And that game never did end because the portable lighting system could not be repaired immediately.

This year could see the Cannners set a precedent and be the first Biglerville team ever to defeat Red Lion. With Walde in the backfield this task would be easier, but perhaps Kint and H. Warner can take up where Walde was forced to leave off. Red Lion has improved since the start of the season although to date they have scored only one conference win in four starts. That was a close 20-19 win over Ephrata which led the conference earlier in the season. They have lost to Littleton, Manheim Township and Columbia.

Red Lion has a heavy backfield but no speedy breakaway back to get downfield fast. It operates from a wing-T formation and employs mostly a running attack. Average weight of the two teams is about even.

PENN IS WARY ABOUT VIRGINIA

Philadelphia, Nov. 2 (AP)—Heavily-favored Pennsylvania is mighty wary about its football game with unbeaten Virginia Saturday simply because Virginia's star player is a Philadelphia-bred youth.

Time after time local lads have returned to Franklin Field to haunt the Red and Blue.

For example, in 1930, when Lud Wray was coaching Penn, Marty Brill came to Franklin Field with a Knute Rockne-coached Notre Dame team. Brill had played on the Penn freshman team but Wray had told him he never would make a college player. At Notre Dame Brill became one of football's greatest blocking backs.

For the 1930 game with Penn, though, Rockne had other ideas. He handed Brill the ball and said: "Son, today you're a runner."

Brill ran wild, scored four touchdowns as Notre Dame crushed Penn 60 to 20. Legend has it that Brill on his last touchdown run thumbed his nose at the Penn bench as he crossed the midfield stripe.

In 1937, Harry Harrison, another Philadelphia boy, threw the pass that gave Penn State a 7-0 victory over Penn.

And in 1946 Skippy Minisi, a wartime midshipman at the Naval Academy, caught a pass in the last minute to defeat Penn 14-7. He had played for Penn the previous year. Only last year a Philadelphiaian named Wally Triplett figured heavily in Penn State's 13-0 triumph over Penn. It was Triplett's tackle of Carmen Falcone on State's one-yard line that halted a touchdown drive.

York Springs In Last Tilt Thursday

York Springs high school will ring down the curtain on its first football season in history Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when New Freedom will be met at York Springs in a Little Six conference game.

The county team got off to a whirlwind start in its first game by lacing Stewartstown 25-0, but then dropped tilts to Dallastown, Washington Township, Littlestown and Marysville.

Although New Freedom is a heavy favorite to win Thursday's game the York Springs outfit has high hopes of finishing the campaign as it started, with a victory.

The blue of the sapphire is due to oxides of iron and titanium.

Junior High Team At Hanover Thursday

Rogers Herr's Gettysburg junior high gridders face a severe test Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock when Hanover junior high will be met on the Nighthawk field. The game was originally listed for the local gridiron.

The local outfit has played three games, winning from Delone and Biglerville while playing a 6-6 deadlock at Mercersburg academy.

THREE RED SOX PLAYERS GAIN ALL STAR TEAM

By JOE REICHLER
New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—The New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, rivals in the last World Series, each gained two berths on the Associated Press' 1949 Major League All-Star team.

Both, however, were forced to play second fiddle to the Boston Red Sox who led all clubs with three representatives — outfielder Ted Williams and pitchers Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder.

The remainder of the dream squad picked by a poll of 116 members of the Baseball Writers' association of America is composed of one player each from the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Tommy Henrich, a converted first baseman, and shortstop Phil Rizzuto are the world champion Yankees on the squad. Second baseman Jackie Robinson and catcher Roy Campanella are the Dodgers' representatives.

Third baseman George Kelly, only Tiger on the team, received the most votes. He was named on 113 of the 116 ballots cast. Williams was next with 112. Others to hit the century figure were Robinson, 106, and Stan Musial, Cardinals' star flycatcher, 100. Campanella just missed with 99.

Henrich got 97 votes for first base and five in the outfield. Musial got three additional votes, all for first base. The smallest number of votes for a winner went to Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's home run slugger, whose 68 votes won the right field post.

Rizzuto won with 83 votes. Only one vote separated the Red Sox pitching twins. The lefthanded Parnell, who won 25 games and lost only eight, drew 78 votes, one more than the righthanded Kinder, who led all American League pitchers with a 23-6 win and lost record.

Of the 10 men selected, only two are holdovers from the 1948 team. The incumbents are Williams and Musial. Williams, in fact, has been named on all four Associated Press teams starting in 1946.

Those missing from last year's squad are Johnny Mize, first base; Joe Gordon, second base; Lou Boudreau, shortstop; Bob Elliott, third base; Joe DiMaggio, center field; Birdie Tebbetts, catcher; and Johnny Sain and Harry Brecheen, pitchers.

Miscellaneous
Pinehurst, N. C.—The opening round of the North and South Open golf tournament was postponed because of rain.

New York—Lawrence A. Baker, Washington, D. C., was nominated for third term as president of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Steel Production To Come Back Fast

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Steel production can be lifted to the pre-strike level of around 85 per cent of rated capacity within a month after the walkout ends, The Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly said today.

But it will take the industry five to six months to make up the loss of steel output caused by the strike, the publication added.

This loss was estimated by The Iron Age at 8.5 to 9 million tons. Its prediction on the time required to make up the lost production is based on assumption of normal steel demand at about 75 per cent of rated capacity of the industry. When production resumes, the trade weekly said, "it now appears that almost all steel products will start off on a quota basis—and be allocated by the mills to stretch the available supply."

JOHNSON HAS STREAK OF 94 EXTRA POINTS

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—One of these Sundays, maybe three or four years from now, Harvey (Pat) Johnson of the New York football Yankees is going to miss a kick for point after touchdown and spoil a most promising record.

At the moment the former William and Mary stalwart has booted 94 one-pointers in a row. This is 22 better than the former professional (and, of course, college) record hung up by Jack (automatic) Manders with the Chicago Bears away back in 1933-37.

(Manders' National football league record was broken 10 days ago by Cliff Patton, Philadelphia Eagles' guard who ran his consecutive string to 77 over a three year period.)

The last time Johnson failed in his specialty was on Sept. 12, 1947, in a game against the rival Los Angeles Dons of the All-America conference. Even that, however, was not quite the blot on his career that one might suppose, jumping at conclusions.

Last "Miss" Blocked
"I didn't exactly miss it," Johnson confides. "That one was blocked."

While running up his extra-point mark the Yankees' third-string center also has found time to make himself one of the most feared field goal kickers in the pro game. His boots from the field have won three games for the Yanks already this season.

Since he joined the stadium crowd in '46, Johnson has made good on 21 three-pointers out of 31 attempted. Five of them were from 40 yards or more.

In all, the Bridgeton, N. J., product has scored 136 extra points out of 138 tries, and with his field goals has contributed a grand total of 199 points to the Yankee scheme in three and a half seasons. He probably is the most productive third-team center in football history.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Major league farm bosses insist there is no "ceiling" on practical operations of baseball chains, but you notice that a lot of clubs are cutting down to a limit of somewhere between ten and 15 affiliates. . . . Beyond that the operation apparently becomes too expensive for the number of good players developed, though one operator points out that a couple of money-making farms can carry a lot of the load. . . . On the other side, minor leaguers complain that most working agreements are unsatisfactory and that the majors saddle the little clubs with too big a share of the expenses. . . . But the little guys can't go it alone because they can't compete for talent nor support expensive scouting staffs. . . . Right now there are some 400 minor league clubs. If each big league club should limit itself to 15 farms, that would take care of 240 of them. Maybe the answer is that a lot of towns want baseball but can't support organized teams at present-day prices. . . . If you can figure out what to do for them, you'll have a lot of fodder for hot-stove discussions—and probably nothing more.

ALL IN THE ACT

Penn State's dramatic organization, the Thespians, has voted an honorary membership to Jim Dragotta, Syracuse end, for "the greatest piece of dramatic acting ever seen on Beaver field." . . . Seems that in last Saturday's Penn State-Syracuse game, with the ball on the one yard line and only a few seconds left to play, Dragotta fell flat on his face and gave a notable performance of appearing injured. That stopped the clock and gave Syracuse one more play for its final score. . . . The Thespians should realize such things are necessary in football; it's only in amateur dramatic groups where you find feminine leads whose faces would stop a clock.

Fans Wrote McCarthy Into Managership

Boston, Nov. 2 (AP)—The fans apparently "wrote" Joe McCarthy back into the managership of the Boston Red Sox for the next two years.

The front office disclosed last night that the jut-jawed pilot had been besieged with fan letters at his Tonawanda, N. Y., farm home, insisting he continue as manager.

They apparently answered a problem he brought to Boston when his club returned from its vital two-game series which gave the New York Yankees the American league title. The crestfallen 62-year-old manager told newsmen then, "If you want me back, write it."

Some sports writers did; others didn't. But the fans apparently settled the problem with their kind letters to the taciturn Sox pilot. He came to terms yesterday at a salary believed to be between $50,000 and $55,000.

Sport Shorts

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Princeton Coach Charlie Caldwell had nothing but good news yesterday as his charges prepared for their Big Three title defense against Harvard Saturday.

Mike McCandless, of Beaver Falls, Pa., and Fred Gloeckner, of Conshohocken, Pa., his second and third string tail backs, reported they would be ready for duty. McCandless recovered faster than expected from an ankle sprain. Gloeckner has been out three weeks with a practice injury.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 2 (AP)—The young men who play football for the University of Pittsburgh figure the experts are all wrong and that they'll score the gridiron surprise of the week against Ohio State Saturday.

Ohio State, current Big 10 favorite, is considered a two-touchdown favorite over Pitt. The game here is a sellout.

NEWLYWEDS AMONG FOUR GUN VICTIMS

Santa Rosa, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP)—A newlywed couple, the bride's sister and a ranch hand were slaughtered by shotgun blasts last night, while a five-year-old girl ran screaming down a lonely ranch road for help.

Held in Sonoma county jail was Henry Pio, 37-year-old ranch hand arrested in downtown Santa Rosa an hour after the four killings. He told sheriff's deputies he had come to surrender.

The deputies pieced together this story of the slayings:

Clyde Howard, 23, and his wife of a week, Louise, 27, drove to Pio's cottage on the Russian River ranch of William Peterson. With them were Mrs. Howard's sister, Mrs. Marie Silvas, and the latter's five-year-old daughter, Esther.

Three Adults Riddled
They left Esther in their car, and walked up the low steps to Pio's cottage, to get a trunk Mrs. Howard had left there before her marriage.

There was an argument; more than a dozen shotgun blasts riddled the three adults, knocking their bodies from the porch. Little Esther scrambled from the car and ran, shrieking, to a neighbor's house.

A few minutes later, Pio appeared at the cabin of Ranch Hand Tony Abaya, three miles away. Several more shots were fired, and Abaya fell, dying within seconds.

Deputies had no information on why Abaya was killed. They said Mrs. Howard, however, had been staying at Pio's cottage before her marriage to Howard.

ONE, TWO AND THREE

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Ann Podciborski had her first child, Ann, 10 years ago. Two years later she had twins, Jeffrey and Johanna, now eight. On Monday she presented her proud husband, Sigmund, with triplets, all boys.

Junior and Senior High School Students Of Gettysburg

See how well you are posted on people doing business in your town—and if you can answer these 13 questions:

1. What man who has the largest chain of department stores in this country would not employ anyone who smoked when he conducted the business?
2. Who is the man who was made chief of the Hopi, Iroquois and Sioux Indians?
3. What man gave all his employee's wives diamond rings?
4. What man took 42 old ladies to Washington, D. C., all expenses paid, and another time entertained 252 men and women, 75 years of age and over, and took 65 of them for an airplane ride?
5. What man owns a 4,000-acre ranch out near the Black Hills and where are the Black Hills?
6. What man has built a house in the shape of a man's high shoe, containing a living room, three bedrooms, two baths, a kitchen and dinette, with observation outlook on the top, with the most beautiful furnishings, where old couples live in luxury each week of this year and brides and grooms in 1950? Where is the house? It's open every Saturday for everyone to go through. Have you?
7. What man has owned and raced four two-year-old champion harness race horses?
8. What is the paid circulation of this paper and who is the editor?
9. What man's hunting and jumping horses have won over 900 ribbons and over 250 silver trophies?
10. What man gives you a dollar if you recognize him a hundred miles away from home?
11. What man, when he sees a bride and groom, gives them a dollar and a fifty-dollar lecture for nothing on "How To Be Happy Though Married"?
12. What man has the largest chain of shoe stores in America owned by an individual?
13. What man will tell you students, if you want to succeed in life, you must be four things: Honest, sober, industrious and economizing—and how can you be economizing and burn your money up and ruin your health by smoking?

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—The Sewing club of Emmitsburg met last evening at the home of Mrs. A. A. Martin, West Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Kass and family of Mount Airy spent Tuesday visiting relatives at Mottors Station. Mr. and Mrs. John Orndorff, Joseph and Paul spent Tuesday in Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Keilholtz and son, Wayne, of Washington, D. C., recently visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Keilholtz, East Main street.

A group from the Emmitsburg Parent-Teacher association consisting of Mrs. George Wilhite, Mrs. Robert Daugherty, Mrs. Paul Glass, Mr. Harry Troxell, Samuel Hayes and Ralph McDonnell attended the meeting at the Frederick high school on social entertainment, comprising square dancing and how to conduct parties, on Tuesday evening. They plan to attend several of the other meetings later in the week. Each time discussions are on a different phase of social entertainment.

There will be a meeting of the Middle Conference Missionary rally of the Women's Missionary society Thursday at 10 a. m., at St. Paul Lutheran church at Burkittsville, Md.

Mrs. Earl Rice gave a shower at her home on Sunday in Port Loudon, Pa., for Miss Helen Frailey, of Emmitsburg and Baltimore, whose engagement to Donald Mathews was announced recently. There were approximately 30 guests from Emmitsburg at the shower.

Miss Rhoda Gillelan and Mrs. J. W. Houser spent Monday in Baltimore.

Mrs. Elmer Fuss and Mrs. Andrew Keilholtz spent Saturday in Walnut Grove, Md., where they attended the sale of Mrs. Florence Null.

Mrs. Andrew Keilholtz, East Main street, spent today in Baltimore. Mr. and Mrs. William Frailey and Marjorie and Carl Crist spent Sunday in Baltimore where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shipley, Prof. and Mrs. B. J. Eckenrode, Mrs. Quinn Topper and daughter, Jeanne, and Mrs. D. L. Beegle spent Tuesday in Baltimore.

Mrs. D. R. Crosby, Staunton, Va., is visiting with Mrs. B. P. Ogle and Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Randolph for several weeks.

The Toms Creek Methodist church is having their chicken and oyster supper on Saturday afternoon at the school house. They will begin to serve meals at 4 o'clock.

The Children of Mary, under the leadership of Patricia Fitzgerald, are planning to take charge of the "grab bag" and fancy table at the coming bazaar and supper which will be held in St. Euphemia's auditorium on Saturday. Chicken or oyster suppers will be served from 4 o'clock on.

Mrs. George Brown and family are moving today to the property of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kugler on Federal Hill, where George Ashbaugh had formerly lived.

Joseph H. Shuff, of Merion, Pa., and Miss Mary J. Shuff, of Frederick, spent the week-end at the home of their father, M. F. Shuff, West Main street.

Cole Selected As Wrestling Chairman

Clyde Cole, wrestling coach at Gettysburg college, has been appointed chairman of the wrestling committee of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference.

The appointment was announced by President William Murray, Delaware coach and athletic director.

Cole succeeds Austin Bishop, formerly of Franklin and Marshall college, who resigned to enter the army.

As part of his duties the Bulletin mentor will organize the wrestling clinic to be held during the conference meeting in Philadelphia on December 2 and 3.

Start School of Bible Training: A week-day school of religious instruction will be started Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. James Lutheran church. The teachers who have signed up to teach in the Bible school are:

Miss Margaret Howard, first grade;
Miss Grace Sachs, second grade;
Mrs. Ralph Oyer, third grade; Mrs.
Willis I. Appier, fourth grade; Mrs.
Earl J. Bowman, fifth grade; Miss Maude Miller, sixth grade; and Miss Mildred Stoner, seventh grade.

Install Organ in Lincoln Theater:
The new concert organ installed at the Lincoln Way Theater will be played Monday night for the first time at the premier showing of "Monsieur Beaucaire," a picture
featuring Rudolph Valentino.

Italy's Fascists Celebrate: (By the Associated Press.) Rome, Oct. 28.— Italy today celebrated the completion of two years under the Fascist government. Public buildings throughout the kingdom by order of Premier Mussolini were beflagged in honor of the occasion.

Delegates Return: E. P. Miller and I. L. Taylor returned to their homes here Thursday evening after attending sessions of the United Lutheran Church in America, at Chicago, as delegates from the West Pennsylvania Synod.

Life and Drum Corps Serenades Gettysburgians: Eli Sheetz, of Washington, D. C., reputed millionaire candy manufacturer, stopped in Gettysburg Friday morning with his life and drum corps, en route to Bedford, where, on Friday night, they participated in a Halloween parade. Mr. Sheetz plays the fife in the corps with evident relish.

Mr. Sheetz is a personal friend of George F. Mitchell, Center Square, and the candy manufacturer serenaded his friend with "Turkey in the Straw."

Episcopal Bishop Here on Sunday: Bishop Darlington, of Washington, D. C., one of the heads of the Episcopal Church of the United States, visited the church of the Prince of Peace on Sunday, to administer the rite of confirmation.

Huge Parade Is Held Here: Gettysburg sported itself in various ways on Halloween night and young and old helped celebrate the mysterious evening before All Saints' Day.

Chief among the entertainment features on Friday evening was the colorful and fantastic parade in which several hundred persons joined in the merriment.

Allen B. Plank, through whose efforts the Mummies' parade was staged, was marshal of the paraders and revelers. Music for the marchers was furnished by the Citizens' band, the members of which were also in costume.

After the parade a number of the revelers went to Natural Springs where a masked ball was in progress.
Almost 600 persons, most of them in costume and masked, attended the dancing party, music for which was furnished by the Eight Collegians, of Harrisburg.

Local Quartet Returns Home: The Seminary Male Quartet, designated as official leaders of music for the biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America at Chicago, will return home Monday morning, the convention having closed on Friday, with a total of 35 appearances, four of them over radio.

Fractures Forearm: In a fall from a tree Sunday afternoon Ernest Weishaar, 5 years old, son of Mr.
and Mrs. George Weishaar, Freedom township, broke both bones of his right forearm.

Large Crowd at GOP Pig Roast:
Republicans of Gettysburg and Adams county rallied at a roasting meeting, following a pork roast, Saturday evening, for their candidates, national, state and county. By actual count, 1,263 persons were fed at the Order of Independent American

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

A MELODY OF MEMORIES

I have never seen a more beautiful autumn than the one now in full recitation. My home is on a corner with massive trees all about, and from these trees, gently falling, are leaves of every hue of red and gold.
A light wind with invisible wings, fan-like, loosens the dying leaves and they fall noiselessly all about, reminding one in this climate of the falling flakes of snow a little later on.

Each street now is one paved with temporary color, and the rustle of the leaves, from those walking through them or from the wind's lift—it's all the same—a pageant of beauty, and a melody of memories.
For these autumns take one back in memory to other autumns, each one preceded by a budding springtime.
The youth and death of the year strive this memory of ours to reflections in thought to the days and friends of former years.

There is sadness in this beauty of the falling leaves. And yet there is a whispering of hope from each falling leaf. There have been other autumn and there will be others for so long as there is an earth. In the measurement of Eternity, our little life is but a replica of a solitary leaf, falling to its rest in the soil.

I glance from my library window,
and they are falling in a shower, these leaves, and down the street, as far as I can see, it is the same—falling, falling, falling. Soon it will be that "the melancholy days are come,
the saddest of the year," as the poet Bryant once wrote, for behind the beauty of this autumnal glory, within our minds, is the memory of those too, whom we have loved in life who have fallen to earth like these leaves. They will know no more autumns.

But like these dying leaves which furnish substance for future autumn, so do those who have departed upon "the great adventure" leave behind them the substance of their beauty and never-dying memory.
May this thought give to us all a spiritual comfort, without which faith would lose its luster.

TAKEN FOR GRANTED

He took for granted all her care,
Quite sure that she
With him, and crosses hard to bear,
Would patient be.

He had no doubt that she's obey
His every whim,
Anw with devotion, night and day,
Would wait on him.

He took for granted she's forgive
His follies all,
And be content with him to live
'Till death should call.

If she resented hurt or slight,
She's keep it hid
He took for granted—and was right,
That's what she did.

Borough Faces Suits if Bond Issue
Is Lost: If voters of Gettysburg on Tuesday's general election fail to pass the proposed bond issue for a sewage disposal plant, the State Department of Health will intervene and by court action compel the town to build a complete sewage treatment system, costing in the neighborhood of $91,000.

The proposal facing the voters on Tuesday is to decide if the community shall proceed with the borrowing of $55,000 to build an amended sewage treatment plant, meeting with the approval of the State Department of Health.

Lions Club Dedicated To Community Service

In international affairs the United Nations is the vital and far-reaching organization assigned the task of striving for good relations and order in the world. Within this country and state our legislative bodies are charged with the responsibility of regulating and directing society for the best possible good of all its citizens. And in our own community, helping to make this job much easier,
is the Upper Adams County Lions club, pledged to the service and well-being of the community it represents.

Significant to the upper community are the Tuesday evening dinner meetings held twice each month by this composite, community-minded group. Here many decisions are reached that give a "lift" to good living in upper Adams county. A child with poor eyesight is helped to see. A cripple gets a brace to make his life more normal. Some household, pressed by the tragedies of life, is given a helping hand. The high school band goes on parade sporting new uniforms. And Lion-sponsored improvements in the community make it safer—healthier—better.

Consider the objects of this and all clubs in the International Association of Lions clubs. The club forms a body of men representative of all businesses and professional interests within the community. This cross section of businesses and professions meets in an atmosphere of cheerful fellowship that brings more harmony into community life. Such a social union helps to promote two of the club's objects—a friendly and cooperative relationship among the business and professional interests and an active participation in community betterment. Among its other objectives are the promotion of loyal citizens under a good government, of better understanding among men, and of the idea that high ethical standards, teamwork and an exchange of methods and ideas are better than strife, rivalry and destructive competition.

Representative Roster

That the Upper Adams Lions club is really a composite cross section of business and professional interests can easily be proved by a look at its roster. The diversity extends from pomologist and horticulturist to pharmacist and dentist, from grocer and garageman to educator and apple grower. Add to the list minister, banker, postmaster, insurance agent,
freight agent, plumber, electrician, foreman and office worker and you are forced to admit that the upper community is well represented here.
Making up the roster are 29 professional men, 16 members who have their own business excluding fruit growers who number 13, nine educators, two ministers and one retired member. Few groups are more capable of speaking and acting for the community.

To list the club's committees is to give a good picture of what the Lions club is and what it is doing.
Charged with the administration of the club are these committees: Attendance, L. W. Kleinfelter, chairman; Constitution and By-laws, H.
W. Krouse; Veterans, L. W. Garretson; Greeters, L. V. Stock; Finance, E. J. Yoder; Lions Information, D. Bosserman; Membership, P. N. Hewetson; Program, C. F. Shil-
lito; Publicity, P. P. Osborn; Music, E. Fohl; Auditing, R. Eckenrode; and Sick, W. Weigle. Carrying out the program of community service are these committees: Sight Conservation, C. Grim; Boys and Girls work, B. Sheets; Citizenship and Patriotism, R. M. Walter; Civic Improvement, B. G. Walters; Community Betterment, O. C. Rice, Jr.; Education, S. A. Ehlman; Health and Welfare, A. Hoffman; Public Safety,
Tyson; and Agriculture, D. Asquith.

Formed 10 Years Ago

Also in the club's program for the year are special meetings that give the youngsters and ladies an opportunity to join in the social life and good fellowship that is a part of every meeting. These include two ladies' nights, daughters' night, sons' night and a family picnic. Special meeting or not, they are all peppy, well planned with no lagging or dull moments, and held in an atmosphere of friendly cordiality.

The Upper Adams County Lions club came into being in 1939. Its activation was sponsored by the Gettysburg Lions club. Elected as the club's first president was Leslie V.
Stock, Biglerville, who is now supervising principal of the Upper Adams Joint School district. Chosen as secretary was Rowe M. Martin. Charter members include Joseph S. Boyer, Wilmer E. Bream, Cyrus G. Bucher,
Raymond H. Burtner, W. Earl Fohl,
Clair Grim, Lloyd Kleinfelter, Lloyd
W. Kuhn, Rowe M. Martin, J. D.
Miller, Arnold E. Orner, Paul F. Osborn, Cecil R. Snyder, Leslie V.
Stock, J. Ralph Stoner, N. C.
Thomas, Blaine G. Walker, Elmer J.
Yoder and M. Leroy Zeigler.

Presidents of the club in addition to Mr. Stock have been J. D. Miller, H. Earl Pitzer, Lloyd W. Kuhn, M.
Leroy Zeigler, Sewell E. Kapp, Lloyd
W. Kleinfelter, Raymond H. Burtner,
John R. Fidler, Clyde A. McCauslin and Rowe M. Martin. Besides Mr.
Martin, past secretaries have been Cecil Snyder, Harry P. Geiselman,
Ralph L. Eckenrode and Russell S.
Hackman.

At present the club officers are

Cyrus G. Bucher, president; Harry
P. Geiselman, first vice president;
Arnold E. Orner, second vice president; Russell S. Hackman, third vice president; M. Francis Coulson, secretary-treasurer; George L. Schri-ver, tall twister; Joseph S. Boyer, lion tamer; Donald E. Horst, Ralph W.
Tyson, Albert Hoffman and Harvey
W. Krouse, directors.

Seventy-two members are listed on the roster. They are: Dean Asquith, Donald E. Baer, Donald A. Bosserman, Joseph S. Boyer, Wilmer E.
Bream, Cyrus G. Bucher, E. D.

the counties in the state having child welfare organizations.

Miss Cunningham presented a list of about 80 welfare children in the county who are to receive Christmas gifts. Several children were assigned to each of the members of the committee. These committee members are to approach organizations and individuals in their communities for the desired Christmas gifts for these children.

It was also agreed by the committee to send letters to the churches and service clubs in the county, explaining the needs of the committee, the reasons for these needs and asking for cash donations.
The next meeting of the committee will be held Tuesday, December 6, at 8 p. m., in the Murphy building.

Delay Argument On Brennan Appeal

Dover, Del., Nov. 2 (AP)—Argument on an appeal for a new trial in Delaware's "lonely hearts" murder case has been set back from Nov.
3 to Nov. 18 because of the physical condition of one of the defendants.

Mrs. Inez Brennan, convicted with her son, Robert, in the slaying of Wade N. Woodridge, elderly Virginia carpenter, has failed to respond to treatment following an operation at Kent General hospital, a hospital spokesman said yesterday.
She underwent the operation last week.

Chief Justice Charles S. Pickards set the new date for the appeal argument.

Littlestown

church from 4 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m.
in preparation for the first Friday.
Holy Communion will be distributed Friday at 5:45 and 7 a. m. and mass will be celebrated at 7:30 a. m.
"School Ethics" was theme of the regular assembly this afternoon in the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school, conducted by Lloyd L. Stave-ly, Mrs. Virginia Sheely and Mrs.
Brenda Walker. The program included devotions, group singing and several selections by the school band
under the direction of Paul Harner.
Films were shown portraying school behaviour and conduct, school spirit, etc.

Held Halloween Party

Approximately 125 were present
Monday evening in the social hall of Redeemer's Reformed church for the annual Halloween party by the Beginners, Primary and Junior departments of the Sunday school.
The program opened with a grand march, with the pastor, the Rev.
Frank E. Reynolds, playing the piano, when prizes were awarded for the following costumes: ugliest,
Donald Burke; most original, Fred Miller; prettiest, Grizelda Hahn; and the youngest in costume, Larry Conover. Judges included Mrs. Monroe Stavelly, Mrs. George Bemiller and Mrs. Robert Miller.

The program continued with: recitations by Gloria Burgoon and James Kroh; exercise by John Reynolds, Thomas Maitland and Larry Bankert; story by Bette Reaver; song by John Shomper and Kenneth Koontz; recitations by Mary Ann Burgoon, Nancy Rohrbaugh and Jacqueline Hawk. The pastor related a Halloween story, after which motion pictures were shown.

requests the pack committee, consisting of Fred W. King, Stanley Hornor, George Strevig and Kenneth Myers, to be present.

Troop No. 14, Littlestown Girl Scouts, Mrs. Ethel Helwig, leader, will meet Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Helwig at the corner of Charles and "M" streets, instead of in the fire hall.

To Hold Food Sale

A food sale and bazaar will be held Saturday morning beginning at 9 o'clock in the room on the first floor of the VFW building, formerly occupied by the baby shop. The sale is being held by the ladies' auxiliary of the local VFW.

Mr. and Mrs. James Randall and daughter, Carol Ann, Hallam, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Randall and daughters, Regina and Carolyn, near Westminster, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W.
Randall, Lumber street.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Stavelly and

OLD FASHIONED REVIVAL HITS LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Nov. 2 (AP)—Old-style religion is sweeping the City of the Angels with an evangelistic show overshadowing even Billy Sunday. Since it started six weeks ago, more than 200,000 from the city's 2,900,000 population have filed into a circus tent on the fringe of downtown Los Angeles. And they're still pouring in at the rate of 10,000 every night.

The come to hear the preachments of a dynamic, handsome young college president named Billy Graham. Churchmen say he's started the greatest religious revival in the history of Southern California.

Oratory eloquent

Graham's oratory is eloquent; his doctrines are home-spun. From the singing, shouting multitudes, thousands have hit the sawdust trail and announced publicly their decision to return to Christ.

One of them was a brilliant track star at the University of Southern California before the war. His name is Lou Zamperini. An Air Force captain, he crashed in the Pacific, spent 47 days on a raft, then lived through months in a Japanese prison camp.

"It is difficult for anyone who came through the things I did to forget God, but I did," Zamperini testified.

Another convert is Stuart Hamblen, popular cowboy crooner and sportsman, son of a Methodist minister. He stepped to the pulpit to announce that he'll sell his racing stable.

Going to Boston

"I will keep El Lobo, but only for sentimental reasons," Hamblen said. "I will never race him again." El Lobo, dubbed "The People's Choice," won the $50,000 San Antonio Stakes at Santa Anita in 1947.

Graham is 30, nephew of North

Carolina's Senator Frank Graham and president of Little Northwestern college in Indianapolis. He wears garish ties, Argyle socks and an irresistible grin. He has toured this country and England, once drew 75,000 to Soldier Field, Chicago. He plans to visit Boston next, but isn't sure when his mission here will be completed.

He says his greatest response has been here—in a city sometimes called the most un-Godly west of the Hudson.

PLATES HELD UP

Baltimore, Nov. 2 (AP)—The steel strike has hit Maryland motorists in the front and rear—where they display their license plates. Arthur H. Brice, commissioner of motor vehicles, announced yesterday no new license plates will be issued next year. He said the strike has held up steel deliveries to the state penitentiary, where the plates are manufactured.

20 BRANCHES OF SERVICE OPEN

Sgt. Frank Wolf of the Gettysburg Recruiting station announced today that men between the ages of 17 and 34 years with no prior service may now enlist in any of 20 branches of the armed forces.

Enlistments of qualified men will be accepted for duty in these branches: Airborne, armored cavalry, army security agency, coast artillery, corps of engineers, Far East command, field artillery, infantry, language schools, officer candidate school, specific army schooling, regular army unassigned, chemical corps, Corps of MPs, counter intelligence corps, medical department, ordnance department, quartermaster corps, signal corps and transportation corps.

Sgt. Wolf announced that a recent enlistment in the army from the county is Harold A. Kime, Gettysburg R. 5. He entered the Regular Army unassigned, for three years.

Previous announcements from various sources have stressed the higher mental and physical standards now in effect for enlistment in the Regular Army and Air Force. In line with this program, greater selectivity from among individuals applying for enlistment at recruiting stations must of necessity be exercised, Sgt. Wolf said.

However, the Army and Air Force still need more manpower. During October more than 1,100 men from Pennsylvania were needed by the Army alone to keep pace with present and anticipated losses. This figure does not include almost 400 World Series and the National League 17.

Force in the same month. The American League has won 29

Why YOU Should Vote For Amendment 1-A At The Polls November 8

1. If Amendment 1-A passes, World War II veterans will receive 40 cents per day for each day they were in service. The money is to be given them to make up, in a small way, for the financial loss they had in serving our country at $50 a month while jobs at that much per week went begging.
2. Every gold star widow or mother will receive $500.
3. Veterans will receive an average of $325 as their adjusted compensation. This money will go to pay off debts, help pay for homes, cars, groceries, clothes; in fact everyone will benefit from it in increased business.
4. The approximately $400,000,000 that the adjusted compensation will cost can be paid out of the annual treasury surplus — THERE IS NO NEED FOR ADDITIONAL TAXES.
5. The Democratic and Republican parties have both endorsed the adjusted compensation payments, the state legislature has voted for it twice, Governor Duff and other high-Republicans and high Democratic officials have all expressed their approval.
6. This general approval indicates that the proposed adjusted compensation payments are not only just but feasible. That the payments are something owed to the veterans and should be paid, and that they can be paid without injuring the financial condition of the state.
7. If you approve the payment to veterans you must vote. There are many who do not approve, for many reasons. They will be out to cast their votes. The veterans need your vote to guarantee the passage of Amendment 1-A.

Comb Potomac River For Missing Among 55 Victims Of Washington Air Crash

Called Worst Tragedy In Air History Of U.S.

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, Nov. 2 (AP)—Boatmen combed the bed of the Potomac river today for the missing among 55 men, women and children hurtled to death from the air yesterday in history's worst airplane tragedy.

Many hours following the collision of an Eastern Airlines passenger transport and a Bolivian fighter plane, the search went on under the glare of floodlights for the 10 passengers whose bodies had not yet been recovered. Congress promised a complete air safety investigation. The Civil Aeronautics Board said its hearings into the cause of the crash will start in a few days. One airline scheduled a probe of its own.

The disaster occurred as the big DC-4 transport headed into the National Airport for a landing shortly before noon, flying at about 300 feet.

Witnessed From Tower

It was a routine stop on the Boston-New York-Atlanta-New Orleans run. Fifty-one passengers and a crew of four were aboard. Visibility was 15 miles. The ceiling was 6,500 feet.

Into the traffic pattern pattern, calling for landing instructions, came a P-38 fighter piloted by Bolivia's top airman, Erick Rios Bridoux. Bridoux was testing the twin-engine craft which his government had purchased from the United States.

An airport tower operator a bare half-mile away saw the P-38 bear down on the transport. He cried a radio warning to the 28-year-old Bolivian. The P-38 kept coming.

Bolivian Solo Survivor

Then the tower frantically signalled the transport. The pilot swerved the big ship from its path, but too late.

The fighter ripped into it from above and from the side. The airliner split in half. Bodies and wreckage fell into the water and along the bank of the Potomac.

The sole survivor was the Bolivian. He was dragged from the water with a possible broken back and other injuries. He mumbled to questioners that his "power"—presumably his radio power—had failed in the critical moments.

Among the Dead

The tragedy struck into many towns and cities across the nation. Among the dead were:

Rep. George J. Bates (R-Mass.), 58, father of seven children, former mayor of Salem, Mass., and a member of the House Armed Services committee.

Miss Helen Hokinson, a native of Mendota, Ill., who poked fun at plump suburban clubwomen in cartoons for the New Yorker magazine.

Gardner W. Taylor, 60, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan association of New York.

Theodore Martin Riehle, 58, whose firm is the New York general agent for the Equitable Life Assurance society.

Michael Kennedy, 52, former leader in the New York Tammany Hall Democratic political organization.

Letter to the Editor

Oct. 31, 1949

Dear Sir:

A recent reference in this paper to some Halloween procedures caused me to wonder whether we adults take our responsibilities to the children seriously enough, and do we reflect on the possible future significance of trends so airily overlooked by us in actions of the rising generation of citizens, our youthful population?

It may seem amusing for anyone to take an independent and analytical view of such trends; more amusing to act with a stand against the easy-going or popular tide; and most amusing to dare to speak out in all seriousness when so many ears are sure to prove deaf. But this is the pioneer spirit; and the only way world conditions can ever be made better is to accept the responsibility for the moral training of the children.

Is it wise to encourage or to pass over so lightly the "Trick or Treat" idea? In its final analysis it amounts to a refined (?) begging and blackmail. The elders seem, largely, to be yielding—many quite grudgingly!—to its necessity; when all they would need to do to stop this movement in its tracks is to, kindly and courteously say to the children, "We do not believe this to be real fun and we'll explain why. It is too much like those bad gangsters, who say, 'If you do not give us money or whatever we demand, we shall harm your property!' So—have fun, but not by begging or threats."

I tried this; and, believe me, it worked satisfactorily. I think that most of our "kids" are good and not set of the milk-bottle-breaking and destructive variety. Let us help to point out and keep them on the right track. This is too much the day of protection rackets—of the wrong

The rear portion of an Eastern Air Lines plane rests on bank of the Potomac river half a mile south of the National Airport in Washington, D. C., following a collision in the air with a Bolivian military plane. The front part of the transport is in the river. The probable death toll is 55.—(AP Wirephoto)

IDLENESS NOT GOOD FOR HEART

Philadelphia, Nov. 2 (AP)—A pair of heart specialists struck a blow today at the "take it easy" theory in caring for victims of heart ailments.

In an address before the Interstate Postgraduate Medical Association of North America, Dr. William G. Leaman, Jr., warned that "doing nothing is as dangerous as doing too much."

Dr. Leaman is professor of medicine at Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania and also president of the Philadelphia Heart association.

"The old medical adage, 'Take it easy,' is dangerous advice," Dr. Leaman said.

What doctors should advise, he went on, is for families of heart disease victims to "stop making invalids" of the sufferers. If they don't, Dr. Leaman said, the patient "may quit his job, be numbered among the unemployed for years, become a permanent dependent upon relatives of society and die at an early age."

"The patient should be reassured by his physician, honestly removing the fear of sudden death," Dr. Stroud said. He described "rest and reassurance" as the best treatment for acute cases. He said medical experts are "astounded" at how well a majority of patients do who have had a nonfatal coronary occlusion.

GET PAY BOOST

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 2 (AP)—About 350 truck drivers and helpers in Hagerstown, Frederick, Md., and Chambersburg, Pa., were working today under a new contract giving them an average hourly wage boost of eight cents. The new agreement was signed Monday by representatives of about 10 trucking companies and Local 992 of the AFL Teamsters Union, winding up negotiations which had dragged on since mid-August.

STUDENT KILLED

Erie, Pa., Nov. 2 (AP)—Mary Elizabeth Kelly, 18, of Minora, N. Y., a sophomore at Mercyhurst college here, was killed by an auto last night on a highway in front of the campus. She was walking with two other girls, who were uninjured.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Because the community Halloween parade sponsored by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post was interrupted by inclement weather on Friday evening, a similar one was conducted throughout the town Monday evening.

Mrs. Mary Rea, Scranton, has been visiting her relatives, Mrs. Curtis W. Deatrick and Miss Ruth A. Deatrick, R. 2. Mrs. Rea is a sister of the late Mr. Deatrick.

Women of the auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of this section are preparing to hold a bake sale on Saturday, November 12.

Local Girl Scouts, with their leaders, have placed a display of their activities in the window of the local 5 and 10c store in observance of Girl Scout Week.

Ralph W. Hamme, Hanover, visited in this section during the week.

The building erected on York in 1945 for the local branch of the Hanover Shoe company, which recently discontinued operations, has been purchased by Newell E. Coxon of the local Penn Wood Heel company.

According to word received by relatives recently, Miss Marjorie J. Maguire, Brooklyn, N. Y., a niece of Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney, has arrived in Italy where she will spend most of a year furthering her art studies under a fellowship granted outstanding art major graduates of Catholic colleges. Miss Maguire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Maguire, is a graduate of Manhattanville college, New York city.

Mrs. L. M. Page left this week to return to her home in London, England, having spent several months here with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson H. Weaver, who announced the birth of their son, Jeffrey, early in October.

Mrs. William D. Gibbs, Jr., is able to be about, having recovered from

SEEK PRISONER WHO FLED JAIL

Lock Haven, Pa., Nov. 2 (AP)—State police today hunted a 26-year-old prisoner who fled through the front door of the Clinton county jail after kissing his four-year-old daughter goodbye in the corridor.

Sheriff George A. Hickoff said he was standing near Robert Hamm, Lock Haven, last night as the prisoner was saying goodbye to his wife, two-month-old son and the daughter.

"Suddenly he darted out the front door and made off down a side alley," Hickoff said. "I've been ill the past few days and couldn't catch him."

Hickoff gave this report of the escape: "I have always taken the human viewpoint when it comes to prisoners; so I was giving Hamm an opportunity to say goodbye to his family. He stooped down to kiss the little girl and then suddenly darted out the door."

Mrs. Hamm, holding the baby, shouted after her husband, "Don't do it." Turning to the sheriff she screamed "Call the police. Catch him. It will only mean a longer term."

Hickoff said Hamm was last seen running along a railroad track. The prisoner was to begin an 18 month-to-three year sentence today in the Pittsburgh institution for stealing an automobile.

That, the National Steel Corp. subsidiary claimed, is a world's record for steel production by 12 stationary open hearth furnaces in a single month.

Weirton said a new plant record also was established last month by its three blast furnaces which produced a total of 124,134 tons of pig iron. Weirton Steel is the world's largest independent producer of tin plate, and a leading producer of a wide range of other steel products.

WAGER 28 MILLIONS

Camden, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—A total of $28,748,121 was wagered by 336,680 persons during the 26-day garden state racing meeting which closed yesterday. The figures showed an average daily handle of $1,105,697 and daily attendance of 12,895.

the rescue.

Patricia, of Glendon, an Easton suburb, tumbled into the Lehigh river yesterday while playing with other children.

Her playmates ran to a nearby store for help. Joseph F. Billowitch, 34, who was making a delivery, ran to the river edge, plunged in and pulled the little girl to safety.

He then drove off without telling anybody his name. He later was identified through the name of the Keystone Bakery Co. on his truck. Patricia was taken to the hospital where her condition was listed as serious as the result of shock.

Harrisburg, Nov. 2 (AP)—The state Game Commission Mon. cancelled a one-day antlerless deer season set for December 10 in Forest, Bedford and Clarion counties. The commission said the counties have submitted petitions containing 51 per cent of the hunters and farmers in the counties for the cancellation as required by law.

Science Finds Apple Is "A Miracle Health Food"

Science and consumers are agreed there is health "magic" in apples. They have become conscious of what the "old timers" always took for granted—that an apple a day keeps the doctor away.

In urging increased consumption of health-giving Pennsylvania apples during National Apple Week—October 29 through November 5—the state Department of Agriculture says the International Apple Association calls attention to the fact that while the apple is not a cure-all, recent scientific research does show the apple to be "a miracle health food" for the average person.

Water makes up 83.5 per cent of the apple, the remaining 16.5 per cent being solids which contain vitamin A and C, also small quantities of B and G. Carbohydrates make up more than 13 per cent of the solids, of which 12 per cent comprise the various forms of sugar—levulose, sucrose and dextrose. Fat and protein are low. Minerals include iron, calcium and phosphorus. Organic acids include tannic, malic and citric.

"Apples contain large amounts of pectin which provides non-irritating bulk in the intestinal tract," the association declares. The pectin absorbs large quantities of water. For this reason apples serve as a natural laxative. Pectins also contain uronic acid which neutralizes poisons in the body. For this reason apples are anti-toxic.

Help Fight Colds
"Apples aid digestion because the organic acids help the stomach in its work. These natural acids are very necessary in the digestion of certain foods, such as cheese, meat and milk."

"Apples assist in conquering colds. They supply vitamin A and uronic acid which enable the mucous membranes to manufacture lysozyme, a germ-killing substance normally present in the respiratory and intestinal tracts. When this substance is not present cold bacteria have easy access to the nose, throat and sinuses. It is also said that the minerals in apples help to make the body more cold resistant by neutralizing the excess acids in the bloodstream."

Apple build sound teeth. Chewing crisp apples massages the gums, mechanically cleans the teeth, tends to disinfect the mouth and sweeten the breath. But apples also supply calcium, in a readily usable form, needed to build strong bones and sound, white teeth."

TOMATO AND PEA CROPS OFF IN '49

Pennsylvania production of green peas for canning and freezing, due to hot and dry weather in early summer, took a slump this year along with tomatoes, but sweet corn and green lima beans remained about the same as in 1948.

The state Department of Agriculture, from a Federal-State survey in early October, learned that Pennsylvania green pea growers also lost their top place in the nation for 1949 yield per acre. In 1948 they led all pea-growing states by producing 2,650 pounds of shelled green peas per acre. Adverse weather this year cut the yield to 1,890 pounds and the total crop from 12,200 acres was 11,530 tons against 14,840 tons from 1,000 fewer acres in 1948. Pennsylvania also was first in yield per acre in 1940 at 2,450 pounds. The average yield, 1938-47, is 2,130 pounds.

Although the canning tomato acreage in Pennsylvania this year was larger than in 1948, hot weather in August reduced the crop to 133,200 tons against 159,100 tons last year. Yield per acre this year was 6.5 tons against 8.2 tons in 1948, but better than the 10-year average of 5.7 tons.

Production of sweet corn for processing this year was estimated on October 1 to be 24,600 tons compared with 25,000 last year and the average of 25,290 tons. The acreage at 11,200 was slightly down this year but yield per acre was a little higher—2.2 tons compared with two tons last year, the same as average.

Green lima beans for canning and freezing were grown this year in Pennsylvania on the same acreage as 1948—4,000 acres. Yield per acre was 1,340 pounds (shelled), 20 pounds more than last year. Total production was estimated at 2,680 tons compared with 2,640 in 1948 and the 10-year average of only 950 tons.

The emerald is a silicate of aluminum and beryllium.

FARM CALENDAR

Observe Apple Week—Pennsylvania growers, distributors, nutritionists, and consumers are taking part in National Apple Week, October 29 to November 5. The state crop of 9½ million bushels has sized well and is of excellent color, says R. B. Donaldson, extension marketing specialist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Grow Heifers Well—The dairy heifers of today are the cows of tomorrow. For that reason, Joe S. Taylor, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, urges good care and feeding of these young animals. They need good living quarters and plenty of palatable feed containing essential vitamins and minerals.

Layers Need Nests—One nest for every three to five hens is suggested by extensive poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college. Without enough nesting space, there will be more floor-laid eggs, broken and soiled eggs, and considerable fighting at the nests. Even cannibalism and egg-eating may develop.

Store Bulbs Properly—Most flower bulbs require a storage temperature of not more than 55 degrees during the day, no less than 40 degrees at night, according to A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulturist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Order Trees Early—Early ordering of fruit trees will give your reliable nurseryman an opportunity to make prompt shipment next spring. You also have a better chance of getting the varieties you want.

Save Labor—A careful study of the farm layout will show where labor can be saved by rearranging equipment and improving practices, reminds M. J. Armes, Penn State extension farm management specialist.

Grow Good Pastures—Plenty of high-quality pasture throughout the season is one of the most important factors in the success of any livestock enterprise. The Pennsylvania State college agricultural extension service has just published a new circular on starting new pastures and improving old ones. Get a copy from your county agent.

Manage Layers Well—Good poultry management often is the answer to the problem of pullets laying a few months and then quitting. Try that before selling the slackers as culls.

The National Basketball association will have eight playing coaches this year among its 17 teams.

SIX DIE EARLY TODAY IN BLAZE IN CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Nov. 2 (AP)—Six persons died early today in a fire which swept through hallways of a three-story apartment building at the edge of the downtown district and left them trapped in their rooms. Seven others were burned or hurt in leaps from second and third story windows.

Four other persons who lived in the apartment in the 1200 block on Elm street apparently escaped without injury.

Five of the dead were reported to have died of burns while a sixth died in a leap from a window.

Extinguished Quickly
Ironically, the blaze was extinguished in short order by firemen and Fire Marshal Harry McNay estimated the damage at only about $2,000.

Attaches at General hospital reported none of the injured appeared to be critical.

The identified dead were listed as: William Hartman, Cincinnati; Coy Shelton, Athens, Tenn.; Mrs. Elma McBeath, Liberty, Ky.; James Alexander, about eight, son of Mrs. McBeath, and Goldie Taylor, 53, Cincinnati.

One man was unidentified but hospital attaches believed it might be George Smith, 53, who has a daughter living at Huntington, W. Va.

Sell Atwater Kent Estate For $113,000

Los Angeles, Nov. 2 (AP)—The 12-acre hilltop estate of the late Atwater Kent, scene of Hollywood's most lavish party giving, went at auction for $113,000—a fraction of what it cost the pioneer Radio set maker.

Milton Wershow, an auctioneer and friend of Kent, bought the estate and its furnishings yesterday. Excluded in the purchase price was the fabulous art collection, silver and bric-a-brac. These go on sale today.

Wershow said he has no immediate plans for the property.

Army's Vet Carrier Pigeon Dies At 32

Fort Monmouth, N. J., Nov. 2 (AP)—One of Uncle Sam's most faithful soldier died Monday night.

He was Kaiser, the Army's 32-year old carrier pigeon, who had outlived a dozen wives and served his adopted country through two world wars.

Back in World War I, American doughboys found Kaiser in a German front line trench during the Meuse-Argonne offensive. They put the well-trained carrier pigeon to work against the Germans.

During World War II the Army used Kaiser to train other pigeons, some of them his own great-great-grandchildren.

The bird's final resting place will be in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. The long-time signal corp mascot will be mounted and displayed there.

Coal, Steel Strikes Push Relief Rolls Up

Harrisburg, Nov. 2 (AP)—Pennsylvania's growing relief rolls took a sharp rise last week as 2,727 joined the payment list—due mainly to the coal and steel strikes.

"Since Sept. 19 when the coal strike began," the Department of Public Assistance said, "the general assistance load in some coal and steel producing counties has doubled and in Fayette county has tripled."

The department said 91,904 persons received general assistance throughout the state during the week of Oct. 22.

In addition to Fayette county, the department said, Somerset and Cambria also were hard hit.

WESTINGHOUSE WORKERS BOLT

Pittsburgh, Nov. 2 (AP)—The 13,700-member CIO local at Pittsburgh's Westinghouse plant today was in rebellion against its parent organization, the left wing United Electrical Workers' Union.

The uprising came as the UE was on the verge of expulsion from the CIO, now holding its annual convention at Cleveland. Already CIO President Philip Murray has announced a plan for organization of a new union of electrical workers.

Officers of the Pittsburgh local—number 601—decided last night to withdraw from the UE and join the new, as yet unnamed union.

To make the decision binding, pending a meeting of the local's executive committee, the officers moved the local's funds to a new bank, announced they would withdraw all per capita payments to the UE and resolved to ignore all messages from UE national headquarters.

"We no longer consider ourselves in the UE," said Stanley Glass, recording secretary of the local and

Mt. Hope — Mr. and Mrs. John Lightner, Mahaffey, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bankert and daughters, Sharon and Joann, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Spangler, Hanover, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kump.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clapsaddle included Mr. and Mrs. Steven Fairy leader of its right wing faction. "We are still in the CIO," he added.

Other spokesmen for the local said the action is part of a movement under way in the entire "Westinghouse conference"—a group of about 90,000 workers in Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants—to secede from the UE and set up its own organization as a right wing CIO unit.

The Power that made Buick Famous

If you want to know what's "the newest thing" in automobile engines, look at the Buick engine pictured here, and you'll see the words "valve-in-head."

But it happens that this isn't new with Buick. As a matter of fact, the valve-in-head engine was invented back in 1902—U.S. Patent No. 771095—and immediately, Buick adopted the principle, which became the first in a long string of "Buick firsts."

Not everyone went for the idea—then. In spite of the fact that this engine "breathes" more freely—gets fuel in and exhaust gases out more easily—others hung onto their pet ideas.

Then came the airplane, with its need for maximum power from every drop of fuel—and every maker of internal combustion airplane engines adopted the valve-in-head principle.

And more recently—with the hope that higher-octane fuels will become available—a lot of automotive engine designers are taking a new look at the valve-in-head idea.

But just for the record, we'd like to point out that Buick got there first.

And ever since, Buick has gone steadily ahead, building up a name as "valve-in-headquarters." Buick engineers reshaped pistons to put Fireball wallop in these engines. They stepped up compression ratios as fast as better fuels came along.

So perhaps you'll want to remember, when you hear the term "valve-in-head," that this is the type of power that made Buick famous.

If others want to climb on the bandwagon, we say "more power to them"—and no pun is intended.

But Buick has been doing more with valve-in-head right from the start.

And—we might add—it stands to reason that Buick is not through making this type of engine better and better.

LEFT-WINGERS GET MAULING AT CIO MEET

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Nov. 2 (P)—The left-wingers are getting a mauling at the CIO convention in Cleveland. But three years ago they opened the door for what's happening to them now. The time was November 18, 1946. The place: Atlantic City, N. J. The CIO was holding its conventions there at that time. It was a couple of weeks after the 1946 election in which the Republicans had won control of Congress from the Democrats. This was the first time since 1932 that the Democrats, who had befriended organized labor, had to play second-fiddle to the Republicans. The CIO didn't know what lay ahead and wanted to keep as much strength as it could.

Criticism Mounted

Further, it needed strength because it was getting set to demand wage increases in 1947. By November, 1946, strong anti-Communist feeling had begun to build up in this country. The CIO particularly had been singled out for criticism because of the activity of Communists in some of its unions. The criticism of CIO had grown so strong that the non-Communist leaders in the CIO decided they had to do something. At the same time, they didn't want to split the CIO wide open by a left-right fight. Not at that time, anyway.

Got Quick Vote

So Philip Murray, president of the CIO, set up a special committee of six CIO union presidents. Three of them were anti-Communists. Three were so-called left-wingers, including Ben Gold, head of the Furriers union, and an admitted Communist. The six-man committee drew up a resolution which said merely that the delegates were opposed to Communist "interference" in the CIO. Murray indicated he wanted a quick vote, and no talk, by saying he expected a "unanimous rising vote." That's what he got, a unanimous vote, joined in by Communists and anti-Communists.

Throwing Reds Out

But how could Gold, one of the top Communists in this country, take part in drawing up such a resolution and voting for it? I got him off the convention floor and asked him. Gold answered: "To maintain the unity of the CIO and resist attacks of employers and the reactionary Republican machine. If the employers thought the CIO was going to engage in a purge or witch-hunting, they must be disappointed." Gradually, Murray and anti-Communist leaders in the CIO have moved since 1946 to a position of throwing out the Communist leaders and even leftist-led unions. At its Cleveland convention yesterday the CIO voted to keep Communists off its executive board.

Rejected Suitor Kills Young Bride

Port Angeles, Wash., Nov. 2 (P)—A young mother, remarried to her divorced husband only a few hours earlier, was shot and killed in the kitchen of her home Monday night by a rejected suitor, who then took his own life. Prosecutor Dana E. Harper said Mrs. Winona B. Medley, 24, was slain by Ted Bishop, about 40, in the presence of the woman's four-year-old son. The little boy ran screaming to neighbors living in a nearby trailer, Harper said, and cried: "Bishop's shot mother."

When police arrived at the modest home, they found Mrs. Medley lying on the kitchen floor with a bullet hole between the eyes. Bishop was sprawled a few feet away, shot in the temple.

National Parks' Visitation Gains

Washington, Nov. 2 (P)—More visitors entered national parks and other areas administered by the National Park Service the past year than ever before. The Park Service reported Tuesday the visitor total for the year (October 1 to September 30) was 31,864,180, a gain of eight per cent over last year's high of 29,608,318. The Great Smoky mountains led the national parks with 1,510,363 visitors, Director Newton B. Drury said. Other totals for 1949 and 1948 (1949 figure first): National military parks and cemeteries—Gettysburg, Pa., 659,822 and 640,548. National battlefield sites—Fort Necessity, Pa., 102,500 and 84,283. National historic sites—Hopewell Village, Pa., 76,824 and 80,524; Old Philadelphia Custom House, Pa., 27,174 and 25,350.

"ROBBED," CRIES LEO

West Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 2 (P)—"We wuz robbed," yelled Leo (Lippy) Durocher. The New York Giants manager wasn't yelling at an umpire this time. He and his wife, actress Laraine Day, reported to police Monday that someone stole a purse containing $77 in cash and $75 worth of jewelry from a bedroom of their home.

72 COMMUNITIES TO DECIDE ON SUNDAY MOVIES

Harrisburg, Nov. 2 (P)—Seventy-two communities throughout the state will vote November 8 on the question of whether they want to legalize Sunday movies. Another community—Dale Borough, Cambria county—will ballot in a special election on a proposal to prohibit the showing of motion pictures on the Sabbath. Referenda on Sunday sports will also appear on the ballot in New Oxford, Adams county; Sellersville, Bucks county; Millersburg, Dauphin county, and Pen Argyl, Northampton county. The four localities now do not allow baseball and football to be played on Sundays under laws dating back to colonial days. A fifth place—Jermyn, Lackawanna county—now permits baseball on Sundays but voters there will decide on whether to ban that sport on the Sabbath. A more recent law gives communities the right every four years to decide whether they want Sunday movies and Sunday sports. Petitions for or against must be signed by a percentage of the voters and approved by the county commissioners. Some of the larger communities now
